

NUSSBAUMER & CLARKE, INC. CONGRATULATES THE WNY CHAPTER – APWA 2011 AWARD WINNERS

The New York Chapter, Western Branch of the American Public Works Association (APWA) has awarded its 2011 Project Awards to the following projects/individuals/teams:

2011 Project of the Year – Disaster Preparedness Award to the Erie County Water Authority (ECWA) for its Standby Power Capital Improvement Program. Nussbaumer & Clarke, Inc. was retained to provide engineering services in connection with the installation of standby power capabilities for all ECWA facilities throughout their service area to maintain the public water supply during an event in the public electric power grid. This award promotes excellence in the management and administration of public works projects.

2011 Technical and Management Innovation Award to Odie Porter and the Seneca Nation of Indians Capital Improvement Authority. Nussbaumer & Clarke, Inc. was retained to provide engineering services in connection with various capital improvement projects designed to improve the health and well being of their people by updating the infrastructure and community support buildings within their territories. This award recognizes an organization for development and implementation of a creative idea, device, process, or system that enhances the goals of public works.

2011 Public Works Leader of the Year Award to Peter Merlo, P.E., City Engineer for the City of Buffalo for his dedication and energetic public service. Mr. Merlo works tirelessly to insure that the critical services that are the City's lifeline are not compromised despite the declining tax base, aging infrastructure and the City's increased focus on improving the delivery of vital public services. As City Engineer for New York State's second largest city, Mr. Merlo is responsible for a broad range of public works projects including oversight of the operation of the City's public water system. This award recognizes excellence and dedication in public service by acknowledging outstanding achievement in the public works profession.

Nussbaumer & Clarke, Inc. is proud to be associated with these projects/individuals/teams.
